

BRIBE, A DISEASE THAT IS NOT SO BRIEF.

Bribery in public contracts, one of the biggest problems in the current politics that prevents the development of nations as a result of centuries of corrupt leaders, a problem of corruption, a problem of human ethics, a problem of honesty, a very serious problem. Bribery is present but the people is waking up.

Although bribery and corruption are present in all the nations of the world, in Latin American nations it is a constant that never disappears, an example of this is the Odebrecht case in which some Latin American presidents and politicians were bribed by a Brazilian construction company, the outrage was uncovered in 2016 and was widely rejected by people.

Although this caused much rejection, those involved were not punished, time passed and the corrupt continue to rule. We live in a country designed to steal and for the corrupt to leave unharmed.
